

What People Say about: Nancy Reece, Integrity Fanatic

Nancy Reece is an exceptional speaker. She presented a wonderful keynote address for our Southern Association of Colleges and Employers Annual Conference. The depth of her management and leadership experience was evident in her presentation. She captivated her audience with her comfortable style, grace, and sense of humor. What a superb way to close our annual conference.

I want to commend you on your outstanding performance at the Tennessee state SHRM conference at Opryland Hotel on October 1, 2009. I found your comments on building a successful organizational culture insightful and the use of case studies right on target to show us all how applicable the content is. I think it was particularly illuminating that you included local companies that most of us know firsthand. Your use of humor, appropriately placed, as well as your sensitivity to companies that others unhesitatingly ridicule as “worst case examples” resulted in a session that was fun, classy and informative.

Here is someone who knows what she’s talking about (an expert) and also has energy, class, and style! Your entire presentation was amazingly insightful and most enjoyable. You are indeed that rare speaker who immediately establishes credibility with the audience and delivers with such impact that I believe you are changing mindsets and behaviors in a very positive way--I know I went away from this convention and immediately implemented your ideas and advice on leadership.

It is with great pleasure and conviction that I recommend Nancy Reece as a key note speaker to your organization. As a public speaker and educator, I recognize the difference of an average presenter and a truly exceptional one. Nancy weaves personal stories and images into her messages that leave an audience with a deeper understanding and retention of the core learning. Her presentations are polished, funny and customized to the audience. She effectively utilizes the balance of humor, wisdom, and values to create a wonderful learning experience. In short, she is a star performer in the public presentation arena.

Nancy has the uncanny ability of creating an experience that caters to the specific needs and interests of the group she is working with. Her depth of knowledge about personal and professional development is profound. She is able to quickly understand the issues that may be impacting an organization's capacity to maximize potential. She turns that understanding into meaningful sessions that produce obvious outcomes.

Nancy is an outstanding keynote speaker and I could not recommend her work more. She takes the time to make sure that she is delivering what her audience needs and wants, and she connects with those she works with through her authenticity and genuine concern. Her presentations are well researched and thought out, and delivered with excellence and precision. Her professional style is both pleasant and inspiring. I've never experienced an encounter with Nancy, where I didn't learn something new and gain new insights that I wouldn't have gained otherwise. If you are considering utilizing Nancy Reece, I wouldn't hesitate to schedule her for an integrity experience that will have a lasting impact on you and your organization.

Nancy is a rare and gifted presenter who accomplishes this with ease. She incorporates current events, humor, quotes from the experts, and case studies into her presentations to give them relevance, and uses Power Point and handouts to drive the main points home. Her demeanor is warm, confident, professional and sincere. Our members have given only positive feedback regarding her presentations, and the streaming videos of her presentations which are posted on our website are among those most frequently viewed.

Last year, Nancy led a year-long leadership training for our YMCA staff, which exceeded all of the expectations of our staff who participated and in many ways, exceeded my own expectations. The trainings had an extremely positive impact on our staff who now use the tools they learned from her on a daily basis. As a trainer, Nancy truly cares about each staff member and their own personal development. She has a wonderful rapport with people of all ages and connected with all levels of our organization.

Thank you so much for your informative, interactive, and entertaining presentation on change at our annual retreat. I think you were able to present relatively dry information in way that made people understand and enjoy the learning, the material. You got us moving, got us thinking about our co-workers and most importantly, got us thinking about ourselves. I have already received positive feedback about your part of our retreat. It was the best presentation I can recall in quite some time. Thanks you for making a difference.
